Councillor Cox States Position; Wants A Change

FELLOW TOWNSMEN

During the latter part of last week, when the report went abroad through town that I was likely to be a candidate for the Mayor's chair at the coming election, I received so many voluntary offers of support that my mind was very definitely impressed upon my mind. First that the people of Redcliff do appreciate the services I have tried to give during the past six years as a member of the Town Council. Second, That there is a very general desire among the ratepayers for a change in the chairmanship of the Council. I am grateful for the expressions of good will and encouragement given to me, and ask all concerned to accept my thanks. As things have turned out I consider it my duty to issue a statement which will make my own position clear to the voters of Redcliff. The situation was simply this: I had not even thought of myself as a possible candidate for Mayor, and unfortunately the delegation of citizens that wished me to stand did not take action soon enough to make it possible for me to accept the nomination. The Town Act provides that a councillor in the first year of his two year term of office must have his resignation filed with the Mayor prior to nomination day before he is eligible to become a candidate for Mayor.

After a number of years on the council, I am convinced that we cannot hope for progress, or for improved conditions until the Council is under the leadership of a new chairman. And I am delighted to know that Mr. Geo. Worts has set aside his own personal inclinations and interests and has, in response to an instant appeal, accepted the nomination for the office of Mayor. I gladly give to him the wholehearted support and, in the interests of our community, I ask all who so graciously volunteered to give me their support, also all who have voted for me and others who, perhaps for personal reasons, would not have supported me, to rally with vote and influence to the standard of our pioneer business man, Geo. Worts, and elect him with a large majority.

I believe that Mr. Worts will work in harmony with the Council for the best interests of the town, and that he is well qualified to discharge all the duties associated with the office of Mayor of Redcliff.

Faithfully yours
HERBERT J. COX

FORMER HOWELL MAN
DIED IN CALGARY

The funeral of C. J. Blakely, son of M. J. Blakely, of Tilley, who died on Feb. 6th, was held on Wednesday morning from Blakely's undertaking parlors, Calgary, to St. Mary's church, where the Rev. Father Smith conducted the service and the remains were laid to rest in St. Mary's cemetery. The late Mr. Blakely served overseas with the 38th battalion and the pallbearers were all returned soldiers. The coffin was covered with the Union Jack and the floral tributes were numerous. The late Mr. Blakely was well known in Redcliff and the Howell district.

OLD AGE PENSIONERS WILL BE DEFERRED

Premier J. E. Brownlee put a resolution on the order paper of the legislature reading "that consideration of the old age pension bill should be deferred until the next session of the legislature and that, in the meantime, the government should continue to urge upon the Dominion government that it assume the whole or larger share of responsibility under the said act."

Good Attendance At English Night

Mr. Cooper Gives Interesting Address on Old Country

The subscription of Gordon Memorial was well filled and all present thoroughly enjoyed "An Evening with Old England," on Tuesday evening last. The National Lodge showed a fine spirit by donating order in order to participate in the program. The musicians of both St. Ambrose and Gordon Memorial contributed numbers and waited in the opening and closing choruses. Mr. L. A. Russell occupied the host. Rev. J. L. Cooper gave a delightful account of his visit to the old land last summer under the title "England Revisited." He found it impossible to gather into a single hour the half of what should be included in a review of a four weeks' visit to the old land which is everywhere stored with historic treasure. Great changes have taken place since the war, but England is gradually adjusting herself to the new conditions. New industries are being developed, an enormous amount of building is going on, and for the most part the people appeared to be happy and hopeful. The speaker told that he and Mrs. Cooper both enjoyed their trip but were glad when the time came for their return journey to Canada. Mr. Cooper was accorded a very hearty vote of thanks for his interesting and educational address.

Other contributors to the program were Mrs. Thacker and Bert Allison, vocalists; Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Balmer, Mrs. Cann, Mrs. Barrell and Mr. Hitchen, solo; Ed Cook, violin solo; Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Barrell, duet; a mixed quartette by Mrs. Cann, Mrs. Kelleit, Mr. Barrell and Mrs. Cooper; quartette by Mrs. McDougall, Mrs. Cathcart, Misses P. Burtholmead & M. Maclell. The program closed with a cycle of national songs, including the national anthem.

The proceeds which amounted to $38.40, were divided equally between the ladies organizations of the two churches.

HOWELL NEWS

During the first part of the week it looked as though our skating rink might soon be used as a swimming pool. However Jack Frost intervened and we have now a good sheet of ice.

Mr. and Mrs. Delinka were in Medicine Hat on Tuesday. Mrs. Margaret Davidson returned home Saturday after a short holiday spent in Redcliff and Medicine Hat. At the death in Calgary of Clarence Blakely, son of Mr. Michael Blakely, who a few years ago farmed just south of Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Delinka left on No. 8 to attend the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Lapp and family, Miss Davidson and Mrs. Fairclough, attended the play at the high school in Medicine Hat last Friday. Those taking part did exceptionally well and the play was thoroughly enjoyed. On Friday, Feb. 17, there is to be a social and dance in the Howell school house. A good time is assured. Get your tickets early and come along.

Mr. Allan Jackson is having his second car of wheat.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dixon were in Howell on Tuesday.

If the winter continues as doubtful thinking will be resumed.

Misses Ruth Beattie and Helen Ferns visited with Miss Mary Ffrench on Sunday.

A GOOD YIELD

Threshing was more or less general west and north of here last week, and one of the best yields reported is that of J. J. Hewitt just west of town, who threshed 2000 bushels of fifty acres. Mr. Hewitt still has two hundred acres to thresh but was forced to suspend operations owing to wet ground.

To The Ratepayer Of Redcliff

Let us and Gentlemen:

It had been my intention to hold a public meeting in Cliff hall on Saturday night to discuss questions pertaining to the present Mayoralty campaign. After discussing the matter with my committee it has been decided that, since my opponent is not holding a meeting, I will not hold one either. However, as there are many questions in which a large number of ratepayers are showing a keen interest, we have decided that I and members of my committee will be in Cliff hall on Saturday evening after 8:30 to complete our arrangements for the campaign on Monday. If there are any ratepayers who wish to interview me regarding any question, I will be pleased to see them on that occasion.

As I am a business man it will be impossible for me to see you all personally, but I take this opportunity of soliciting your vote and influence. If elected I will do my utmost to work in harmony with the Council and try to help bring about a better community spirit among all organizations in town and work for the best interests of Redcliff as a whole.

Yours sincerely

GEORGE H. WORTS

Memorial Service For Earl Haig

Will be Held in Gordon Memorial Church Next Sunday Evening

Officers and members of the local Legion have made arrangements to hold a memorial service for the late Earl Haig in Gordon Memorial church next Sunday evening, Feb. 12. Legionals all over Canada are holding similar services next Sunday. All members of the Legion are requested to meet at the Club rooms at seven o'clock, where they will form up and march to the church.

It is requested that as many as possible turn out for this service.

Bott and Worts Candidates for Mayor

Councillors and Trustees Elected by Acclamation

More than the usual interest was taken in the nominations for Mayor, Councillors and trustees last Monday. The following officers were nominated:

For Mayor—R. J. Bott, nominated by P. Campbell and I. Brownlee and G. H. Worts, nominated by H. J. Cox and A. Brydie.

For Councillors—A. Brydie by H. J. Cox and A. J. L. Simons, H. J. Cox by H. J. Cox and A. Brydie.

R. J. Bott by A. J. L. Simons and H. J. Cox by H. J. Cox and A. Brydie.

For Trustees—A. J. L. Simons by A. Brydie and G. H. Worts, C. Newsham by D. McLaughlin and G. H. Worts.

R. C. MacFarlane by R. S. Hoyle and G. H. Worts.

A. N. Colman and G. N. Pearson, the two retiring trustees, did not run again as the three nominated were declared elected by acclamation.

As there are two candidates in the field for Mayor, an election for this office will be held in the Cliff hall on Monday, Feb. 12th, between the hours of ten o'clock a.m. and seven o'clock p.m. There will be no election for the Councillors as Mr. Darré has since withdrawn from the contest.

Mr. Wm. Henderson will be the returning officer.

Efforts to have the Amusement tax substantially reduced is not entirely abandoned as it is to be made at the next session of the legislature and petitions calling on the government to give favorable consideration to the proposal are already being largely signed all over the province. The Amusement tax was a tax pure and simple and it bears most heavily on those least able to afford it. The bulk of the tax comes from the motion picture houses and these are the poor man's theatre.

Majority of the Town Councillors Want A Change

Now that we are to have a Mayoralty contest, it would be well for all ratepayers to give the question of how they should vote some serious consideration. There appears to be a growing feeling on the part of a large percentage of the voters that a change in the head of the Council would be in the very best interests of the town at the present time. This opinion is expressed by a majority of the councillors who have been serving on the council for the past five or six years, and who are most emphatic in voicing this feeling.

The fact that a majority of such excellent councillors should be advisable, should have some influence with the ratepayers. Better councillors have been regular attenders at meetings for several years and must have good reasons for taking this stand.

Then there are those who are desirous to realize that no one can do much to improve the town as a whole unless he is first of all a good citizen as a reward for services rendered to the town, on the Council or in other capacities. They consider it poor encouragement for a man to serve faithfully with the hope of getting the reward which should come to him through the honor of being Mayor when his term comes.

The situation in Redcliff is such that the passing around of this honor could easily be accomplished without in the least interfering with the general routine of business. There are no contentions, no questions, there is no construction program under way, the streets are being cleaned in which the old saying of "sweeping horses in the middle of the street" can be applied.

Because of the town's settled financial program for the next years, the changing of Mayors at any time, should make no difference to the program mapped out by the Utilities Commission. In a word there is no better time than the present to adopt this principle of passing the honor around among those who have shown an interest in the town's welfare.

All organizations, such as lodges, Rotary, Keweenaw and kindred institutions, owe their success, and the continued live interest shown in them, to the fact that the heads of them change annually; each round endeavoring to maintain or even surpass the record of his predecessor. The same applies to a town. New men take their place. Give them a chance to air them and, if they meet with the approval of the council, put them into practice.

To Drill For Oil North Of Suffield

C. E. Duffield Machine Tool, Art, appropriate to Commerce

Mr. C. E. Duffield leaves for Calgary and Edmonton this week and to complete arrangements for the drilling of an oil well north of Suffield, for the Territorial Oil Development Co. The outfit is to leave to move to the site and will be moved as soon as conditions are favorable. It is the intention to commence drilling operations as early as possible in the spring.

Mr. Duffield is one of the pioneer drillers of this country and he has made a great name for himself in drilling operations. This company is fortunate in securing his services as they will know when he gets through the undertaking will be complete.

We understand there will be no log skidion in Medicine Hat constituency to fill the vacancy, until after the present session of the legislature.

Quebec Dog Derby is Big Winter Event

There is no reach or even just outside the Chateau Frontenac, one of the finest buildings in America. Quebec is a colorful and romantic city and the quaint narrow streets are most delightful in winter when the picturesque buildings emerge from huge drifts of snow. Many of the carts and wagons are brilliant red, yellow or blue, and horses are often seen galloping. Hobbies on the old city make it one of the romantic spots, and along over the Plains of Abraham where memorable battles were fought, is another.

Canada In 1927

We are now well launched into the new year of 1928, and it is possible to examine the completed story of Canada's progress and development in the year now ended.

It is the universally expressed opinion that the year which witnessed the Dominion's disquieted peace was one of the best years in Canada's history. It was a year unmarked by any great national disaster or epidemic; it was a year of fairly general prosperity; it was a year of national growth and development along its making for national unity and a better conception of Canada's future possibilities.

The Dominion is twice highly regarded by its own people, and has attained to a higher place in the eyes of the whole world. The new status accorded the Dominion within the Empire has been productive of greater national pride and confidence which finds expression in a still greater determination to build stronger and better in the years to come. Not least among the factors adding to Canada's international position was the election of the Dominion to a seat on the Council of League of Nations and the appointment of a Canadian Minister at Washington, and an American Minister at Ottawa.

Western Canada can justly claim credit for many of the things which have resulted in the improved position of the country as a whole. During the past five years it is conservatively estimated that the farmers of Western Canada have sold from produce to a value of $2,000,000,000 at county points, and with the return of prosperity to the West, there has been a vast improvement in business everywhere. In a New Year's message, Sir Henry Dufferin declared that the gain of the year must be largely credited to agriculture and the extension of Canada's grain, pulp, and paper industries. Western Canada has long constituted that a successful and prosperous agriculture meant prosperity for all. The past year has demonstrated this.

One of the most noteworthy developments of the year has been the rapid increase of wealth produced from the mineral resources of the Dominion. Practically every province has experienced important developments in this respect, and no country in the world is now attracting quite so much interest, or having larger volume of mineral activity, it is everywhere apparent that Canada is entering upon a new era in mining, and one which gives promise of adding enormously to the wealth of its people and providing employment for many thousands of workers, not alone in mining itself, but in all the allied industries and businesses, including transportation, which active mining operations bring about.

The trade and commerce of Canada has continued at a high level, with the Dominion occupying a position in the front rank of nations, and with a per capita trade higher than any country except New Zealand.

In the world of finance, Canada has been blessed with cheaper money for productive purposes than any country, except the United States. Canada has been released, revenues have expanded, and surpluses in Governmental administration have taken the place of former deficits. Canada's ability to pay off over $200,000,000 of its national debt out of current income in 1927, is of the greatest of the great changes which has taken place in the last few years.

Western cities report a year of great building activity, a largely increased volume of bank business, growth in population, prompt payment of taxes, prompt operation of public utilities, and great business in almost every branch of commercial activity. Towns and rural municipalities present the most favorable report, an ever increasing number of the latter having liquidated their entire indebtedness and otherwise secured their financial stability and increased their assets.

Thus the old year closed with peace, contentment and prosperity prevailing throughout the Dominion, with new confidence and courage manifesting itself throughout the Maritime Provinces, with activity general in the central eastern Provinces, and with optimism prevailing in the West, coupled with well organized efforts to steadily advance its agricultural and mining development, and with entirely new opportunities in a large scale developing in the north. Canadians can and are facing the new year with pride and confidence.

Children Arrested For Murder

Nine Hundred Homeless In Russia

Of Italian View—

Nine hundred homeless children have been arrested by police in Riga in connection with the murder of the aged Italian vice-consul, Kozlov, who was beaten to death with stones and robbed by children on a dimly lighted street, according to a dispatch correspondent of the Daily Mail.

Kozlov's body was found December 27. He had been visiting a nurse the night of the killing. At the time it was believed that bandits had killed and robbed him and children were not suspected. Even the gold teeth in his teeth had been extracted by the robbers.

According to the Riga correspondent of the Daily Mail, whose report is not substantiated elsewhere, boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 15 were arrested.

Find Long Missing Seal

Was Originally Attached To Charter Of William The Conqueror

A seal originally attached to the charter of William the Conqueror, which always was assumed to have been lost beyond hope of recovery, has been found at the Guildhall, London.

Among an old and miscellaneous collection of articles a red bag was discovered containing pieces of wax which when placed together with the aid of British Museum experts proved to be the centre of the long missing seal.

TO THE MOTHERS OF ALL PALE GIRLS

If Your Daughter Shows Signs Of Anemia, This Is Needed

Anemia is simply a lack of blood. It is one of the most common and at the same time most dangerous troubles from which growing girls suffer.

It is commonly known that blood is often becomes impoverished through overwork and overstudy. It is dangerous because of the stalling of the system and because of its tendency to grow steadily worse. Every growing girl should constantly take a tonic to ward off this insidious ailment.

During my school days I suffered from anemia. It became so bad that I was unable to do my school work. I was continually weak and tired; my appetite was poor, my sleep undisturbed and my one-half mile walk was a task.

To make matters worse I was attacked with acute appendicitis and the operation was a very weakened state. My mother, finding of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, had me take them and after using them for some time I can say the result was simply wonderful.

After they completely restored my health, and now when opportunity occurs I always recommend these pills to my friends, and girls suffering from anemia.

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Time To Advocate Peace

After every great war there is a period of almost complete safety when the nations are too crippled and too weary to fight again. During that period—and we are living in such a period now—every rational experiment in building up a new machinery of peace ought to be tried. If the experiments fail and new generations arise not averse from war, then it will clearly be necessary for the nations to stand fast on the old terms and in the old way.

He was here for the first time in over a century.

Completes Map Of Stars

Forty Years Have Been Spent On Galactic Task

New marvels of the stars stand revealed by the completion of a gigantic task undertaken 40 years ago by the Oxford and Greenwich Observatories—the mapping of a large section of the heavens.

Fifteen million stars, it is estimated, have now had their photographs taken, although only 4,000 are visible to the naked eye. The enormous number of 30,000 star charts, weighing two tons and making a pile 20 feet high, will shortly be assembled and printed.

One of the results of the work has been to make certain something that has long been suspected—that many of the faint, lesser stars are comparatively near the earth and not at vast distances, as was formerly believed. This fact has been discovered from the circumstances under which stars have displayed quickly-shifting motion in the photographs that have been taken of them.

Nineteen observations, spread over the two hemispheres, have been sharing the work.

Stars only up to the "fortieth magnitude" have been photographed. The task of mapping farther stars would entail nearly another 30 years' work.

Cameras used for the charting are special long-focus ones, fitted to telescope that travel by clockwork device at the same rate of speed as the stars they are covering. Times of exposure vary from a few seconds to an hour or so. In all, approximately 200,000 of these exposures will have been made when the task is finally completed.

The astronomers of tomorrow, by comparing the charts now being collected with future ones, will be able to establish how much a star has moved in relation to its neighbor, and in what direction. Exact positions of stars today are being measured with the most delicate instruments obtainable, and no expense is being spared to obtain the most correct results.

Nothing before has ever been attempted in the work of astronomy to compare with this huge task laborer photographing the sky. Progress in astronomy, although it ranks among the oldest of the practical sciences, has been necessarily slow. The starry fields are so vast, and man's means so limited for exploration in them. As each new "willing" is being revealed by improved methods, space takes on even more illimitable dimensions until the human imagination recoils from encompassing them.

Abusing A Car

Headlessness That Formerly Led To The Abuse Of Draft Animals

A man down in East St. Louis, was arrested for assaulting a baby automobile with a heavy wrench. He was the defendant's own car that he was pounding in blind rage, and as automobiles have no feelings, the magistrate discharged him.

Yet here we have a true specimen of the breed which, in the pre-automobile era, dogged horses mercilessly for both faults and failings.

Looking elsewhere, we find plenty of specimens of the breed that formerly left horses standing unblanketed in the cold, that drove horses beyond their endurance, that loaded vehicles beyond the strength of the horses that pulled them.

The men that once gave no thought to the horse's comfort were the true prototypes of the men of today who give no thought to a motor-car's welfare. Driving a car with an overheated radiator is akin to forcing a tired horse. Abusing the mechanism of an automobile is a manifestation of the same headlessness that formerly led to the abuse of draft animals.

But with this difference: In the old days both the horse and the man who did the abusing suffered, the latter through his horse's rapid deterioration; today only the abuser suffers, because it is his own car that is being ruined, and the car itself cannot feel. —Mississippi Journal.

Shed Restores Sight

Shed twelve years ago, a woman of Pressburg, Austria, has regained her sight after an accident. She was crossing a street when a motor-car had knocked her down and dragged her along. The woman was only slightly injured, as she had been carried along between the wheels, and on recovering she found that her sight had been restored.

A woman likes to have a man factor her even when she knows that it is a perilous factor.

Pools require wisdom and leaders go to work tomorrow.

Was Never Part Of Europe

Geologists Explore Theory That American Continent Plinked Away

The theory that the North American Continent once was a part of the continent of Europe and "drifted" away, leaving 3,000 miles of water in between, has been exploded in the opinion of many leading geologists who are here for the convention of the Geological Society of America.

Their conclusions are based upon studies made by Arthur Keith, veteran of the United States Geological Survey and president of the American Society.

The theory, Keith said, is that the North American continent is composed of light rocks which are floating around on heavy rocks.

"It would be reasonable if you grant that the rocks all are in motion," he said. "That event would float" to the surface and the heavier rock, such as granite, would sink.

His conclusion, he added, is that the rocks are not free to move about and that North America is located today where it always was. He said he has obtained proof of this in the study of the Appalachian and Rocky Mountain ranges.

Record Of Performance

Latest Record Shows How Work Of Cattle Feeding Has Grown

The Canadian Record of Performance for pure bred dairy cattle has reached its majority; it has been going for 21 years. The latest report, No. 19, shows to what an extent the work of testing has been extended. Approximately 3,000 cows from 1,000 breeders, representing the Avyline, Brown, Jersey, French-Canadian, Guernsey, Holstein, Jersey, Red Poll, and Shorthorn breeds, qualified under the R.O.P., and in addition 120 bulls are listed as qualified, with at least four qualified daughters from different dams. The results of all this is to provide dairymen with a directory of production from which to choose their herd leaders. It is surprising writer H. C. Mason, how few do take advantage of it as yet.

No infant prodigy amounts to much; but watch the man who does not come to full maturity until thirty-five or forty; he will probably be able to do a lot from forty to sixty; frequently they improve up to seventy and beyond.

Sheep Industry Is Thriving

British Columbia Shows Largest Proportionate Gain During Year

Despite unusually keen competition this year at the recent International Sheep Show in Chicago, Canadian exhibitors displayed their previously gained reputation by carrying off the majority of the principal awards. This is all the more gratifying because of the appearance of many new competitors, a circumstance that reflects the greatly increased interest taken in sheep breeding in all sections of the continent. A further satisfactory aspect of this season's results is that sixty-five per cent. of the Chicago ribbons coming to the Canadian side of the line, the money portion of the awards was divided among a larger number of breeders, a fact significant in promise for the future of this branch of the agricultural industry.

According to the recent report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Canadian flocks increased in number from 3,115,000 in 1920 to 3,260,000, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick being the two provinces failing to show gains. This is a pleasing reversal of the trend apparent some years ago, attributable to the opening of new overseas markets for wool and the steady price current both for wool and lamb. Yet another favorable indication is that along with expansion in the range flocks of Saskatchewan and Southern Alberta, the major part of the increase has taken place on the present farms, their owners realizing that sheep have now become a valuable adjunct of their main business.

Among the provinces, British Columbia, now leading them in aggressive expansion, reports by far the largest proportionate gain, about 25 per cent. on its flock totals rising from 101,500 in 1920, to almost 126,000 this year. Ontario, jumped, 1920, or almost ten per cent., all the more remarkable that it comes after breeders of pure stock have shipped thousands of head of the province during the last twelve months. Ontario also leads all Canada with a total of 958,000 sheep, Quebec coming second, and Alberta third. Quebec reports an increase of 18,000 this year. Manitoba shows a gain of ten per cent, with smaller actual increases in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Why doesn't some genius start a department school of experience?

Guard Against Modern Trend

Paris Loves With To Keep Things That Are Essentially Parisian

Paris is modernizing itself. For fear that all traditions will crumble away a movement is on by an association of Paris lovers to guard all that is essentially Parisian which is likely to fall before the march of progress.

One object is to combat talk of suppressing the book stalls on the quays of the Seine. How much real business is done, how many funds are available to the searcher after the curious today is a matter on which no statistics are available.

A new regulation of the prefecture of police forbids the placing of unselected foodstuffs for display on the sidewalk counters of grocers, save in temporary public markets, but it is a decree much honored in the breach than in the observance.

Says Society Could Easily Stop Crime

Would Be Practically Eliminated Within Generation According To Banishment Society

Ninety per cent. of the world's crime could be eliminated in a single generation if society could succeed about finding out about how to do it. Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, told the Rotary Club at New York.

"Man's Destiny," he said, "is controlled by accident and circumstance alone. Environment and circumstance send man to prisons and criminals drift into crime as naturally as criminals drift into the professions."

"Every child should be taught a way to make a living. Such a course would accomplish more than ever can be done by trying to terrorize the community into virtue."

An Unfortunate Heading

An amusing story of how a newspaper contents bill once passed an unimpeachable criticism on Sir Austen Chamberlain, the foreign secretary, is told, Mr. Chamberlain (as he is termed) made a speech in an English town on the same evening as a gas explosion had occurred. The newspaper bills next morning read: "Sir Austen Chamberlain's Speech. Re-escape of Gas."

At Fifty and Seventy-Five

Different Way Two Washington Newspapers Celebrated Birthdays

The statesman has been made many times in recent years that American newspapers have become standard-bearers as allies as the proverbial peas in a pod. And that is true—just not quite.

The city of Washington, surfeited with the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the city's birthday, recently had in addition to all the rest two newspapers birthday anniversaries within a week.

The Post, fifty years old, got out a special edition of somewhat more than two hundred pages, with pictures unnumbered and endmash columns of re-remembered exploits.

The Star's birthday, coming half a week or so later, was celebrated in a one-column box which said:

75 Years Ago Today

"The Evening Star began publication in Washington."

The fringe of beautiful youth periodicals, but, so late achievement speaks at seventy-five.

Might Mean Famine

Liberals Should Welcome Down-and-Outers Says English Official

"A library should be a haven for the laborer, for the down-and-out, as well as for the respectable student," according to R. W. Mould, who retired as librarian of the Southwark library after 35 years of service.

Mr. Mould recalled that more than 100 "down-and-out" whom his library had sheltered from the cold had "paid the kindness by becoming famers." He mentioned W. H. Davies, the poet, who wrote some of his best poems on scraps of paper in the Southwark library, saying:

"We have given shelter to many an other bird of passage who has later gladdened the world, so we must be glad to attract the down-and-out." The poet of Davies recalls another famous poet, Francis Thompson, whose appeal at length became so desperate that the Quinlan library refused him admittance.

Medicine In Vegetables

Things People Should Eat To Keep Themselves Healthy

Most vegetables and fruits have curative qualities. Spinach has a direct effect upon the kidneys, and onions, garlic, leeks and shallots possess medicinal effect upon the circulatory system.

A raw onion eaten before going to bed is an excellent remedy for indigestion, whilst soup made from onions has a soothing and restorative effect upon weak digestive organs.

The lettuce and the cucumber cool the system. Beets and turnips are excellent appetizers, and celery has such an admirable effect upon the nervous system that it has been known to cure neuritis and is of great use in rheumatic cases.

Tomatoes are good for the liver. Figs, currants, cherries and strawberries are cooling and purifying. The first thing in the morning an orange will cure dyspepsia sooner than anything else.

Rations For Young Stock

Summer Silage For Growing Calves

At the Kapuskasing, Ontario, Experimental Station, a test has been carried out over the last year or so with the object of determining the relative value of summer and winter silage and a feed for growing calves.

The calves were fed a grain ration consisting of equal parts of bar, whole oats and clover, with hay one or the other silage. The results showed greater gains at a lower cost per pound for the summer silage. In fact the average cost of feed to produce 100 pounds of gain over the four years of the experiment was $1.06 for the summer silage, and $1.54 for the oats, peas and vetch.

Will Occupy New Home

Geo. Young, long distance swimmer, and his mother will shortly move into the house which has been purchased and furnished for them out of the fund opened when the swimmer crossed the Catalina Channel a year ago.

The deal for the house is closed, and the fund of more than $1,000 will furnish the home.

Canada's Achievements Last Year

During 1927—"Took her seat with the League of Nations. Paid in cash $25,000,000 of her debt. Increased her trade by more than $25,000,000. Celebrated her Sixtieth Anniversary. Increased in greater extent development than ever. Harvested her second greatest wheat crop.

New Machine For Detecting Guilt

Causes No Pain and Gives Perfect Records Is Claimed

Mechanical detection of guilt without pain to the suspect soon will be possible, Dr. Harold R. Crossland, of the psychology department of the University of Oregon, said.

Crossland has been working on the machine in the psychology laboratories of the university for three months and tests of the instrument recently have been successful, he said.

The instruments being used by criminology experts at present cause considerable suffering and do not give perfect records, according to the proponent of the new device.

A rubber pad which resembles a cuff and fits around the upper arm of the suspect is the only part of the machine that is visible to the person being examined, Crossland said. The remainder of the apparatus is in a separate room, where it can be watched by experts.

"Pressure on the arm is produced by compressed air forced at intervals into the rubber cuff, replacing the hand pump which is now used," he said.

"Systolic (contracting) blood pressure is recorded on a slow revolving drum by means of a delicate instrument which utilizes a column of mercury. When the extreme pressure is reached a small hole is burned on the record papers. The instrument perforation indicates the level of the blood pressure. This is an inclusive feature."

"Specialists to develop satisfactory 'guilt detecting' machines have been made for some time, due to discovery by psychologists that there is a definite connection between blood pressure and the emotional state."

The value of the guilt tests results from the effect on blood pressure to the conflicting emotions arising from the suspect when he must respond to a word connected with a crime. It is said. Experiments show a drop followed by a considerable rise in pressure when the subject is started or angered.

Predicts Kingless World

Spanish Novelists Says Thrones Will Disappear Within Next Century

The world will be kingless within the next century, Vicente Blasco Ibañez, Spanish novelist, predicted in an interview with the Paris Herald.

"Look at Europe now. Not more than four or five kings are left and they are dying. It is spreading like a plague. That is largely due to the influence of the United States."

The writer said he had no desire to return to Spain, which he is exiled, until that country became a republic. He came to Paris from his retreat in Montserrat to assist in the ceremonies on the Victor Hugo centenary. Although he said last he felt lonely in sympathy with the people of America, Blasco with those of his own country, he had never learned a word of English on his various visits to the United States and did not intend to learn any.

Electricity For Manitoba Farms With the object of enabling the farmers of Manitoba to realize the advantage that accrue from the use of electricity on farms, a movement for the electrification of a dozen farm houses for demonstration purposes has been initiated by Hon. W. H. Chubb, Minister of Public Works. The work will be carried out early in 1928.

Ancient Drainage Systems

Cylindrical drainage, testifying to the existence of at least a crude drainage system, a small great pit, and a well-made circular tile of brick, all more than 3,200 years old, have been found in Palestine by the University of Pennsylvania's expedition to Beisan.

Banff Winter Carnival Will Be Colorful Event

Banff, the capital of Canada's National Park of that name, is known to the world as one of the most beautiful and fascinating of summer resorts. It is, however, not generally known that Banff in winter is equally delightful, and that many people prefer to sit at this season, especially during the Carnival Week. The dates for this colorful event are February 6-13.

Girls ski jumper and her husband.

The town is always a blaze of color and light; Indian dances are at intervals along the main street, for the Banff take part in White and Red dances, which many events will start. They move quickly and are kaleidoscopic in color and swiftness. Games are varied and manuevered are an additional cause for more excitement and hilarity.

There are many competitors in all lines of sports during Carnival Week, and even sportsmen will have their fun for trap-shooting in the preliminary annual competition at this time. Another novel event for a winter Carnival is packing, making and breaking camp, and also the famous of the Rocky Mountain Club association, who evidently are not afraid of rivals during the next annual meet of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies.

It is possibly the most popular sport, and the country affords all that could be desired. There are competitions in ski-jumping for professionals, amateurs and young boys; ski-racing, ski-joring races, snow-shoe races and novelty events. Hockey, Canada's great national game, is one of the drawing cards of the Carnival. Teams come from all parts of the west to compete, as many clubs enter for the speed and figure skating; among them the Winnipeg skating club. The Skating Dog Derby is one of the outstanding events which should be mentioned. The course, from Calgary to Banff, is 44 miles long. The teams are made up of men, women and children, and all visitors can take the form of diversion that phases. One great novelty is skating in the Government hot sulphur baths in the open air, with snow and possibly, kila around.
